

Week 6 – Summer CSA

July 11 – July 17, 2022

Hi everyone,

This week on the farm we have had some interesting discussions, among other things, about where to plant our winter crops, which is an exercise in trying to allocate our most flood-proof zones on the farm. I thought you all in our CSA group might find it interesting that right during the beginning of the warm period here, our mind is already on winter and fall harvested crops. Of course our attention is also our warm season offering, which will be gradually expanding, too...

Have a great rest of your weeks,

Eric
